

ABSTRACT

Glycosylated recombinant human tumor necrosis factor alpha is produced in Chinese hamster ovary cells and isolated therefrom. It may be used for the same indications as are known for non-glycosylated human TNF- α .